News about Wartime Dining Car Service

FOR YEA there were ample accommodations for our patrons to dine comfortably and leisurely. Now, due to many consequences of the war, nearly twice as many passengers as a year ago are traveling over our lines. As a result, some dining car patrons must wait for seats.

Every Diner is in service and it is unlikely any more will be built until the end of the war. (This applies to passengers cars, too.) Steel is needed for so many war purposes. To reduce inconvenience to a minimum and to quicken service at popular meal hours, we have introduced two time-saving innovations which we believe all patrons will approve.

First, Quick Service Meals. Popular dishes easy to order, easy to prepare, easy to serve. Brought to the table, complete, in one serving.

Second, Suspension of the sale of alcoholic beverages, wines and beer during periods when passengers are standing waiting for meal service.

Patrons themselves can add materially to the spirit and purpose of these measures by coming in early for meals and by kindly vacating seats promptly after the meal is completed, so waiting fellow passengers can be served.

In the serving of meat, butter, certain cheese, coffee, tea and sugar we particularly ask your indulgence. Like other restaurants, we too are strictly rationed by the Government on these items. In cooperating to the fullest extent, it is necessary, at present, for us to restrict servings in order to provide for a patronage almost double that a year ago.

Most people realize, we believe, that in times like these Dining Car Service cannot be as usual, and we trust you will accept any inconvenience or delay with patience and understanding.
